JOHNSON GOSSIP.

General Sherman Discredits the DePew Story and Pays Tribute to Johnson.

Colonel Fred Grant Reiterates Former Statements and Threatens to Prove Them.

Col. Frank Burr's Narrative of the Relations of Grant, Sherman and Johnson.

MORE OF IT.

General Sherman on the Johnson Interview.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.
St. Louis, Oct. 24.—General Sherman, in an interview says he has letters and documents showing the whole story of the relations between General Grant and President Johnson. General Grant's letters to him do not indicate that Johnson meant violence. The story told from Philadelphia last night was substantially true. General Sherman does not know what was wanted from him at Washington, if General Grant had been sent to Mexico, but he does not think Johnson contemplated anything contrary to the constitution and the laws. After Stanton was removed, Sherman advised the appointment of Gen. J. D. Cox, of Ohio, but Johnson was stubborn and refused.

COL. FRED GRANT.

New York, Oct. 24.—The Herald has another long installment of interviews with persons on the DePew letter. Fred Grant reiterates his former statements. He said: "I have heard my father say again and again the same things in very much the same language. I have documentary evidence in my possession that would be collateral proofs of the facts referred to in the conversation my father had with Mr. DePew and I intend to collate them and my recollections upon that subject."

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24.—The News prints an interview with Vice President Hendricks saying he does not believe DePew's story. Johnson wanted to restore not to construct seceded states.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—The pending controversy between the friends of General Grant and those of Ex-President Andrew Johnson, is creating great interest here, where many of General Grant's friends live, and are in a greater or less degree, familiar with General Grant's expressions upon the subject. Colonel Frank A. Burr, of the Philadelphia Times, has just finished his memorial volume of the "Life and Deeds of General Grant," and it will shortly be given to the public, a chapter of which deals with the relations between Johnson, Stanton and Grant. After telling of General Sherman's summons to come to Washington, it says: General Sherman in speaking of it says: "I recall very clearly being called to Washington by a telegram from President Johnson, during his troubles with congress. My headquarters were then at St. Louis, but I was down in New Mexico among the Indians. I did not know what was going on, but I came to Washington as rapidly as possible and immediately went to General Grant's house, to find out. When we were together I asked him what was up. His reply was that he did not know but there was something going on. He said there was a disposition in the cabinet to get rid of him. A proposition had been made to send him to Mexico, but he had determined not to go. He said he would stand court martial first. He then told me that Seward had formulated some sort of a paper, which had been read and agreed upon at a recent cabinet meeting. He remarked that he had said at the time, that he was not in the habit of receiving orders from the secretary of state, whereupon they had said that that could be very easily remedied: that it could be made to read as coming from the secretary of war. General Grant then urged that it was a diplomatic mission and one on which he could not be sent under the law. He said that if they wanted to send the army down there with him at its head, that was a very different thing, but that he could not be ordered by the secretary of war upon any diplomatic mission whatever. After this explanation, I said to him 'well what do they want of me?' 'I do not know' was his reply. After this conversation, I went over immediately and called upon the president without visiting secretary Stanton, or any other cabinet officers. The president, told me frankly they were going to send Lew Campbell as minister to Mexico, accredited to the Juarez government and that it was thought best to send Gen. Grant along with him; that his high position and his friendship for Mexico would give this act high standing, and place our minister in a commanding position with the government to which he was accredited. I said 'Mr. President, this is a diplomatic mission and General Grant will not go upon it. He will disobey the order if it is issued.' The president seemed very much surprised and said that he had a very great regard for General Grant, and would not like to do anything that was dis-ful to him. After some further conversation, I suggested General Hancock or General Sheridan as escort for Campbell, or if it would relieve the executive of any embarrassment, I would go down myself. 'Very well, if you will go that settles it,' said the president, 'and it will be just as well.' Thus was the difficulty, so far as General Grant was concerned, bridged over and he was kept from an open rupture with the executive. My opinion is that they desired to get rid of him, and keep him from being a candidate for the presidency. What they wanted from me in case General Grant was sent out of the country, I don't know. The discussion between president Johnson and myself never got that far." In relation to the belligerent side of president Johnson's acts about this time and the organization of a force to sustain him in an open rupture with congress, of which general Horace Porter speaks, Mr. Burr says General Grant sent two officers into Maryland to ascertain the strength and manner of operation of troops. Only a day or two after these officers had reported, governor Tom Swann of Maryland made requisition for all the field artillery to which the state was entitled. This requisition General Grant pigeon-holed and remarked so a friend, an officer of high standing who was sitting near, "I have a mind to write to the governor of Maryland and notify him that I am fully aware of what is going on, and intend to keep my eye upon it." After a moment's thought he said, "No, I think I had better keep still." Only a day or two after this, President Johnson came over to his office and spent an hour talking about common place matters, but just before he started to go, he turned to General Grant and said, "General, I am very anxious to know, in case there should be an open rupture between myself and congress, with which side you will be found? 'That will depend,'" said Grant with some earnestness, "upon which is the revolutionary party." While all this was transpiring General Grant was made aware of the fact that in the city of Washington, there was an organization of 3,000 veteran soldiers, under the command of a major-general who is still living and is one of the most conspicuous volunteer officers of the late war. This organization was well officered and ready to be armed at the declaration of hostilities between the president and congress. Mr. Stanton was the master spirit of the organization and its purpose was to be ready to meet any emergency that might arise. The president was commander-in-chief of the army and neither side was able to find out what General Grant would do in an emergency; whether he would obey congress or the president. So each side had its little hostile force prepared for the clash and General Grant, fully aware of this state of things, stood between the two like an impassable barrier, warning both sides to keep the peace. It was well known that about the time that president Johnson asked General Grant the important question above described, confidential letters were sent by the secretary of the navy, to leading naval officers, several whom are still living. Those letters asked for much the same information.

New York, October 23.—The Commercial-Advertiser prints a long interview with General Benjamin F. Butler, of Boston, in which he is quoted as saying that he had additional proof of the projects of Andrew Johnson, as revealed by DePew's letter four days ago. General Butler declined to say what the proofs were, and intimated that they would probably not be made public until after his death.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, October 23.—The Post's Washington special says: A gentleman who is in position to know the decision at which the president has arrived on the Indian question, expresses opinion that the main feature of the Indian policy of the administration will be a radical change in the methods of purchasing and issuing provisions and all other supplies. That the military authorities be given power to assist in removing the causes of dissatisfaction by providing for an honest distribution of supplies. This is the policy which has long been recommended by Generals Sherman, Sheridan and others.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., October 23.—Near Rockford, fifteen miles south of here, this morning, Peter Brakebill, a wealthy farmer, was killed by his son-in-law, William Beal. The killing grew out of a family quarrel. Beal escaped.

The British Campaign is a Riot

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.
LONDON, Oct. 24.—It is now evident that the parliamentary campaign will not pass off without serious rioting in many quarters as the party feeling, which already runs high, daily grows more bitter. The Marquis of Lorne, at Breunford, while addressing the electors, was assaulted with rotten eggs and some men gaining the platform smashed his hat over his head. A fight ensued, and the noble lord became so thoroughly frightened that he hastily departed from the scene, ran through the streets in the rain, and immediately departed for London.

BERLIN, October 23.—The Emperor William returned to this city to-day from Baden. He was welcomed by thousands of citizens. The Emperor looked well, but his countenance wore a grave expression.

CATTARO, October 23.—A native of Albania to-day made an attempt to shoot the Montenegrin minister of war. The attempt was unsuccessful. When arrested the man openly avowed that he was a member of a conspiracy formed against the frontier delimitation commission. He regretted that his shot had failed to take effect. The prisoner was summarily executed.

TANGIERS, October 23.—The cruelties practised by the authorities of Morocco are attracting the serious attention of all the foreign representatives and an appeal to their respective governments will probably be made, for foreign interference, in order to stop the horrible atrocities which are almost daily perpetrated on alleged criminals, for some imaginary offence, trumped up by spies for the purpose of retaining their positions.

PARIS, October 23.—The Burmese envoy yesterday handed a note to Lord Lyons, British ambassador, in which he stated that he had sent a dispatch to the government advising them to accept arbitration for the settlement of the dispute with England and that he was certain they would be glad to restore friendly relations with Great Britain.

PARIS, October 23.—The Soir referring to the proposed expulsion from France, of the members of the Orleans family, says the cabinet has decided not to interfere with them for the present.

BIRMINGHAM, October 23.—Lord Randolph Churchill opened the campaign to-day in the presence of a crowded and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Chamberlain, he said, gave splendid promises in regard to the future but refused to explain the past. He remained silent concerning the enormous bloodshed of gallant Englishmen in the Sudan. Mr. Gladstone (cheers and hisses) had issued a lengthy and vague manifesto, explaining nothing and leaving the situation of the Liberals baffled and confused. The meeting was uproarious throughout, but was generally favorable to the speaker.

NOW OR NEVER.

The Question: "Shall We Have Another Chance in the Next World?"

The Answer: "In the Place Where the Tree Falleth There it Shall Be."

A Man's Future State Depends Upon the Use He Makes of the Present.

Prof. Henry Eyre Brown opened the services in the Brooklyn tabernacle Sunday morning with the organ solo sonata in C minor by Rheinberger. Dr. Talmage read and expounded the thirty-first chapter of the First Book of Samuel, showing that the old grudge between the Philistines and the Israelites was kept good, and that people generally die as they live. The hymn sung was:

When Thou, my righteous judge shall come
To take Thy ransomed people home,
Shall I among them stand?
Shall such a worthless worm as I,
Who sometimes am afraid to die,

The subject of the sermon was: "Shall We Have Another Chance in the Next World?" The text was from Ecclesiastes, xi, 3: "If the tree fall toward the south or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth there it shall be." Following is the sermon in full:

There is a hovering hope in the minds of a vast multitude that there will be an opportunity in the next world to correct the mistakes of this; that if we do make complete shipwreck of our earthly life it will be on a shore up which we may walk to a palace; that as a defendant may lose his case in the circuit court and carry it up to the supreme court or court of chancery and get a reversal of judgment in his behalf, all the costs being thrown over on the other parties, so if we fail in the earthly trial we may in the higher jurisdiction of eternity have the judgment of the lower court set aside, all the costs remitted and we be victorious defendants forever.

My object in this sermon is to show that common sense, as well as my text, declares that such an expectation is chimerical. You say that the impenitent man, having got into the next world and seeing the disaster will, as a result of that disaster, turn, the pain the cause of his reformation. But you can find ten thousand instances in this world of men who have done wrong and distress overtaken them suddenly. Did the disaster heal them? No; they went right on.

A PARALLEL FROM LIFE.

That man was flung of dissipations. "You must stop drinking," said the doctor, "and quit the fast life you are leading, or it will destroy you." The patient suffers paroxysm after paroxysm, but under skillful medical treatment he begins to walk about the room, begins to go to business. And, lo! he goes back to the same grog-shops for his morning dram and his evening dram, and drams between. Flat down again. Same doctor! Same physical anguish! Same medical warning! Now the illness is more protracted, the liver is more stubborn, the stomach more irritated and the digestive organs more rebellious. But after awhile he is out again, goes back to the same dram shops, and goes the same round of sacrilege against his marriage vow; that that broken-hearted woman is so unlike the roseate young wife that he married; that her old school-mates do not recognize her; that his sons are to be taunted for a lifetime by the father's drunkenness; that the daughters are to pass into life under the scarification of a disreputable ancestor. He is drinking up their happiness, their prospects for this life, and, perhaps, for the life to come. Sometimes an appreciation of what he is doing comes upon him. His nervous system is all a jangle. From crown of head to sole of foot he is one aching, rasping, crucifying, damning torture. Where is he? In hell on earth. Does it reform him? After a while he has delirium tremens, with a whole jungle of hissing reptiles let out on his pillow, and his screams horify the neighbors, as he dashes out of bed, crying, "Take these things off of me!" As he sits, pale and convalescent, the doctor says: "Now I want to have a plain talk with you, my dear fellow. The next attack of this kind you will die." He gets better, and goes forth into the same round again. This time medicine takes no effect. Consultation of physicians agree in saying there is no hope. Death ends the scene.

That process of inebriation, warning and dissolution is going on within a stone's throw of this church—going on in all the neighborhoods of Christendom. Pain does not correct. Suffering does not reform. What is true in one sense is true in all senses, and will forever be so, and yet men are expecting in the next world purgatorial rejuvenation. Take up the printed reports of the prisons of the United States, and you will find that the vast majority of the incarcerated have been there before, some of them four, five, six times. With a million illustrations all working the other way in this world, people are expecting that distress in the next state will be salvable. You cannot imagine any worse torture in any other world than which some men have suffered here, and without any salutary consequences.

ITS IMPROBABILITY.

Furthermore, the prospect of a reformation in the next world is more improbable than a reformation here. In this world the life started with innocence of infancy. In the case supposed the other life will open with all the accumulated bad habits of many years upon him. Surely it is easier to build a strong ship out of new timber than out of an old hulk that has been ground up in the breakers. If with innocence to start with in this life, a man does not become godly, what prospect is there that in the next world, starting with sin, a seraph should be evolved? Surely the sculptor has more prospect of making a fine statue out of a block of pure white Parian marble than out of an old black rock seamed and cracked with the storms of half century. Surely upon a clean white sheet of paper it is easier to write a deed or a will than upon a sheet of paper all scribbled and blotted and torn from top to bottom. Yet men seem to think that though the life that began here comparatively perfect turned out badly, the next life will succeed though it starts with a dead failure.

"But," says some one, "I think we ought to have a chance in the next life because this life is so short it allows only small opportunity. We hardly have time to turn around between cradle and tomb the wood of the one touching the marble of the other." But do you know what made the ancient deluge a necessity? It was the longevity of the antediluvians. They were worse in the second century of their lifetime than in the first hundred years, and still worse all the way on to seven, eight and nine hundred years, and the earth had to be washed and scrubbed and soaked and anchored clear out of sight for more than a month before it could be made fit for decent people to live in. Longevity never cures impenitency. All the pictures of time represent him with a sythe to cut, but I never saw any picture of time with a case of medicines to heal. Seneca says that Nero for the first five years of his public life was set up for an example of clemency and kindness, but his path all the way descended until he became at sixty-eight a suicide. If eight hundred years did not make antediluvians any better, but only made them worse, the ages of eternity could have no effect except prolongation of depravity.

"But," says some one, "In the future state evil surroundings will be withdrawn and elevated influences substituted and hence expurgation and sublimation and glorification." But the righteous, all their sins forgiven, have passed on into a beatific state and consequently the unsaved will be left alone. It can not be expected that Dr. Duff, who exhausted himself in teaching Hindoos the way to heaven, and Dr. Abel, who gave his life in the evangelization of China and Adoniram Judson, who toiled for the redemption of Borneo, should be sent down by some celestial missionaries society to educate those who wasted all their earthly existence. Evangelistic and missionary efforts are ended. The entire kingdom of the morally bankrupt by themselves, where are the salvable influences to come from? Can one speckled and bad apple in a barrel of diseased apples turn the other apples good? Can those who are themselves down help others up? Can those who have themselves failed in the business of the soul pay the debts of their spiritual insolvents? Can a million wrongs make one right? Poneropolis was a city where King Philip, of Thracia, put all the bad people of his kingdom. If any man had opened a primary school at Poneropolis I do not think the parents from other cities would have sent their children there. Instead of amendment in the other world all the associations, now that the good are evolved, will be degenerating and down. You would not want to send a man to a cholera or yellow fever hospital for his health, and the great lazaretto of the next world, containing the diseased and plague-struck, will be a poor place for moral recovery. If the surroundings in this world were crowded of temptation, the surroundings in the next world, after the righteous have passed up and on, will be a thousand per cent. more crowded of temptation. The Count of Chateaubriand made his little son sleep at night at the top of a castle turret, where the winds howled and where specters were said to haunt the place, and while the mother and sisters almost died with fright, the son tells us that the process gave him nerves that could not tremble, and a courage that never faltered. But I don't think that towers of darkness and the spectral world swept by sirocco and euroclydon will ever fit one for the land of eternal sunshine.

I wonder what is the curriculum of that college of Inferno, where, after proper preparation by the sins of this life, the candidate enters, passing on from freshman class of depravity to sophomore abandonment and from sophomore to junior, and from junior to senior, and day of graduation comes, and with diploma signed by satan, the president, and other professional demons, attesting that the candidate has been long enough under their drill, he passes up to enter heaven. Pandemonium a preparative course for heavenly admission. Ah, my friends, satan and his cohorts have fitted uncounted multitudes for ruin, but never fitted one soul for happiness.

IT IS BETTER SO.

Furthermore: It would not be safe for this world if men had another chance in the next. If it had been announced that however wicked a man might act in this world he could fix it up all right in the next, society would be terribly demoralized and the human race demolished in a few years. The fear that if we were bad and unforgiven here it will not be well for us in the next existence is the chief influence that keeps civilization from rushing back to semi-barbarism, and semi-barbarism from rushing into midnight savagery, and midnight savagery from extinction, for it is the astringent impression of all nations, christian and heathen, that there is no future chance for those who have wasted this. Multitudes of men who are kept within bounds would say: "Go to, now! Let me get all out of this life there is in it. Come, gluttony, and inebriation, and uncleanness and revenge and all sensualities and wait upon me. My life may be somewhat shortened in this world by dissoluteness, but that will only make heavenly indulgence on a larger scale the sooner possible. I will overtake the saints at last, and will enter the heavenly temple only a little later than those who behaved themselves here. I will on my way to heaven take a wider excursion than those who were on earth pious, and I shall go to heaven via gehenna and via sheol." Another chance in the next world means free license and wild abandonment in this. Suppose you were a party in an important case at law, and you knew from consultation with judges and attorneys that it would be tried twice, and the first trial would be of little importance, but that the second would decide everything, for which trial would you make the most preparation, for which retain the ablest attorneys, for which be most anxious about the attendance of witnesses? You would put all the stress upon the second trial, all the anxiety, all the expenditure, saying, "The first is nothing, the last is everything." Give the race assurance of a second and more important trial in the subsequent life, and all the preparation for eternity would be post mortem, post-funeral, post-sepulchral, and the world with one jerk be pitched off into impiety and godlessness.

WHY EXPERT IT?

Furthermore: Let me ask why a chance in the next world if we have refused innumerable chances in this? Suppose you give a banquet and you invite a vast number of friends, but one man declines to come or treats your invitation with indifference. You, in the course of twenty years, give twenty banquets, and the same man is invited to them all, and treats them all in the same obnoxious way. After a while you remove to another house, larger and better, and you again invite your friends, but send no invitation to the man who declined or neglected the other invitations. Are you to blame? Has he a right to expect to be invited after all the indignities he has done you? God in this world has invited us to all the banquets of His grace. He invited us by His providence and His spirit 365 days of every year since we knew our right hand from our left. If we declined it every time, or treated the invitation with indifference, and gave twenty or forty or fifty years of indigity on our part toward the Banquet, and at last He spreads a banquet in a more luxurious and kingly place amid the heavenly gardens, have we a right to expect Him to invite us again, and have we a right to blame Him if He does not invite us? If twelve gates of salvation stood open twenty years or fifty years for our admission, and at the end of that time they are closed, can we complain of it and say: "These gates ought to be open again. Give us another chance." If the steamer is to sail for Hamburg, and we want to get to Germany by that line, and we read in every evening and every morning newspaper that it will sail on a certain day. For two weeks we have that advertisement before our eyes and then we go down to the docks fifteen minutes after it had shoved off into the stream and say: "Come back. Give me another chance. It is not fair to treat me in that way. Swing up to the dock again, and throw out the planks, and let me come on board." Such behavior would invite arrest as a mad man, and if, after the gospel ship has lain at anchor before our eyes for years and years, and all the benign voices of earth and heaven have urged to get on board as she might sail away any moment, and after awhile she sails away without us, is it common sense to expect her to come back? You might as well go out on the Highlands at Neversink and call to the Auraria after she had been three days out, and expect her to return, or to call back an opportunity for heaven when it once had sped away. All heaven offered us as a gratuity, and for a lifetime we refuse to take it, and then rush on to the houses of Jehovah's buckler demanding another chance. There ought to be, there can be, there will be no such thing as posthumous opportunity. Thus our common sense agrees with my text: "If the tree falls towards the south or towards the north, in the place where the tree falleth there it shall be."

A PLATFORM OF STUPENDOUS ISSUES.

You see that this idea lifts this world up from an unimportant way-station to a platform of stupendous issues and makes all eternity whirl around this hour. But one trial, for which all the preparation must be made in this world or never, never made at all. That piles up all the emphasis and all the climaxes and all the destinies into life here. No other chance! Oh, how that augments the value and the importance of this chance! Alexander, with his army, used to surround a city and then would lift a great light in token to the people that if they surrendered before the light went out all would be well, but if once the light went out the battering rams would swing against the wall, and demolition and disaster would follow. Well, all we need do for our present and everlasting safety is to make surrender to Christ, the king and conqueror; surrender of our hearts, surrender of our lives, surrender of everything. And He keeps a great light burning, light of gospel invitation, light kindled with the wood of the cross and flaming up against the dark night of our sin and sorrow. Surrender while that great light continues to burn, for after it goes out there will be no other opportunity of making peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Talk of another chance! Why, this is a supernal chance! In the time of Edward VI., at the battle of Musselburgh, a private soldier, seeing that the Earl of Huntly had lost his helmet, took off his own helmet and put it upon the head of the earl; and the head of the private soldier uncovered, he was soon slain; while his commander rode safely out of the battle. But in our case, instead of a private soldier offering helmet to an earl, it is a king putting his crown on an unworthy subject; the king dying that we might live. Tell it to all points of the compass. Tell it to-night and day. Tell it to all earth and heaven. Tell it to all centuries, all ages, all millenniums, that we have such a magnificent chance in this world that we need no other chance in the next.

A DREAM.

I am in the burnished judgment hall of the last day. A great white throne is lifted, but the Judge has not yet taken it. While we are waiting for His arrival, I hear immortal spirits in conversation. "What are you waiting here for?" says a soul that went up from Madagascar to a soul that ascended from America. The latter says: "I came from America, where for forty years I heard the Gospel preached, the Bible read, and, from the prayer I learned in infancy at my mother's knee until my last hour, I had Gospel advantage, but for some reason I did not make the christian choice, and I am here waiting for the Judge to give me a new trial and another chance." "Strange," says the other. "I had but one Gospel call in Madagascar and I accepted it, and I do not need another chance." "Why are you here?" says one who on earth had feeblest intellect to one who had great brain and silvery tongue and scepters of influence. The latter responds: "Oh, I knew more than my fellows. I mastered libraries, and had learned titles from colleges, and my name was a synonym for eloquence and power. And yet I neglected my soul, and I am here waiting for a new trial." "Strange!" says the one of the feeble earthly capacity, "I knew but little of worldly knowledge; but I knew Christ, and I made Him my partner, and I have no need of another chance." Now the ground trembles with the approaching chariot. The great folding-doors of the hall swing open. "Stand back!" cry the celestial ushers. "Stand back, and let the Judge of quick and dead pass through." He takes the throne, and looking over the throng of nations he says: "Come to judgment, the last judgment, the only judgment." By one flash from the throne all the history of each one flames forth to the vision of himself and all others. "Divide," says the Judge to the assembly. "Divide," cry the guards angelic. And now the immortals separate, rushing this way and that, and after a while there is a great aisle between them and a great vacuum widening and widening, and the Judge, turning to the throng on one side, says: "This is righteous let him be righteous still, and he that is holy let him be holy still." And then turning toward the throng on the opposite side, he says: "He that is unjust let him be unjust still, and he that is filthy let him be filthy still," and then lifting one hand toward each group, He declares: "If the tree fall toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth there it shall be." And then I hear something jar with a great sound. It is the closing of the book of judgment. The Judge ascends the stairs behind the throne. The hall of the last assize is cleared and shut. The high court of eternity adjourned forever.

THE GREAT REGULATOR

ARE YOU BILIOUS?

The Regulator never fails to cure. I most cheerfully recommend it to all who suffer from Bilious Attacks or any disease caused by a disordered state of the Liver.

KANSAS CITY, MO. W. R. BERNARD.

Do You Want Good Digestion?

I suffered intensely with Full Stomach, Head-ache, etc. A neighbor, who had taken Simmons Liver Regulator, told me it was a sure cure for my trouble. The first dose I took relieved me very much, and in one week's time I was as strong and hearty as ever I was. It is the best medicine I ever took for Dyspepsia.

RICHMOND, VA. H. G. CRENSHAW.

Do You Suffer from Constipation?

Testimony of HIRSH WARDER, Chief Justice of Ga.: "I have used Simmons Liver Regulator for Constipation of my Bowels, caused by a temporary Derangement of the Liver, for the last three or four years, and always with decided benefit."

Have You Malaria?

I have had experience with Simmons Liver Regulator since 1862, and regard it as the greatest medicine of the times for curing Malaria, and malarial fevers. So good a medicine deserves universal commendation.

Mr. R. FOSTER, 320 Main street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered from Neuralgia, and found no relief till I used ATLANTOPHOS, then in one day's time the pain was all gone."

Some ATLANTOPHOS will not act as quick as others. It is in this case, but it is sure and the more severe the pain the more quickly it will act. There is no disease more common and none more intensely painful than neuralgia. Ladies particularly are subject to headaches of neuralgic origin. Neuralgia in any form can be surely cured. ATLANTOPHOS is absolutely safe and absolutely sure. Thousands who have suffered intensely with neuralgia and been cured by the use of ATLANTOPHOS prove the truth of this statement. Is it not worth a trial in your case? Ask your druggist for ATLANTOPHOS. If you cannot get it of him we will send it express paid on receipt of regular price—$1.00 per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATLANTOPHOS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

OUR HOME HEARTHINGS.

Meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church.

By Telegram to this Bureau.

PHILADELPHIA, October, 23.—The fourth annual meeting of the general board of managers of the women's home missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was held here to-day. Mrs. Rutherford Hayes, called the meeting to order. After the delivery of several other addresses, the fourth annual report was read by Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes. It stated that the past year had been one of growth and reference was made to the death, during the year, of Bishop Wiley. Several committees were then appointed and recess was taken.

"He jests at scars, who never felt a wound," and a man may stand with his hands in his pockets and laugh at a poor, worn rheumatic, but if he is a gentleman, he'll step into the nearest apothecary shop and buy him a bottle of Salvation Oil at the small expense of only twenty-five cents.

All the attempts to imitate the Richmond Straight Cut Cigarettes have failed. The particular kind of tobacco from which they are made is exclusively controlled by Allen & Ginter.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's

Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Lead & Co.

"After two months I was given up to die!"

"When my wife heard a neighbor tell what Hop Bitters had done for her, she at once got and gave me some. The first dose eased my brain and seemed to go hunting through my system for the pain."

"The second dose eased me so much that I slept two hours, something I had not done for two months. Before I had used five bottles, I was well and at work as hard as any man could, for over three weeks; but I worked too hard for my strength, and taking a hard cold, I was again with the most acute and painful rheumatism all through my system that ever was known."

"I called the doctors again, and after several weeks they left me a cripple on crutches, for life, as they said. I met a friend and told him my case, and he said Hop Bitters had cured him and would cure me. I looked at him, but he was so earnest I was induced to use them again."

"In less than four weeks I threw away my crutches and went to work lightly and kept on using the Bitters for five weeks, until I became as well as any man living and have been so for six years since."

"It has also cured my wife, who had been sick for years; and has kept her and my children well and healthy with from two to three bottles per year. There is no need to besick at all if these Bitters are used."

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

The New York board of health estimates that 30,000 lives have been destroyed by the explosive qualities of petroleum. If every house hold would adopt the White Seal Oil for family use, none of these unfortunate accidents would occur.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL has none of the defects usually found in common oils. It cannot be exploded, does not char the wick, will not smoke, emits no offensive odor, and prevents the breaking of chimneys.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL is a rich oil for illuminating purposes. It is as light in color as pure spring water. It gives a strong steady light, and burns much longer than common oils.

If the White Seal Burning Oil is not sold in your vicinity, send your order direct to us for a barrel or a case containing two neat five gallon cans.

Frightful Case

Of a Colored Man!

I contracted a fearful case of blood poison in 1883. I was treated by some of the best physicians in my state. They used the old remedies of mercury and potash, which brought on rheumatism and impaired my digestive organs. Every joint in me was swollen and full of pain. I was in a horrible condition: when I had been given up to die, my physicians, who had seen the workings of the medicine in other cases, thought it would be a splendid time to test the virtues of Swift's Specific. When I commenced taking S. S. S. the physician said I could not live two weeks under the ordinary treatment. He commenced to give me the medicine strictly according to directions, which I took for several months. I took nothing else, and commenced to improve from the first. Occasionally I would have a basket from impudence. Soon rheumatism left me, my appetite became all right, and the ulcers, which the doctor said were the most frightful he had ever seen, began to heal, and by the first of October, 1884, I was a well man again. I am stronger now than I ever was before, and weigh more. I have not failed to report for duty since that time, being engaged in the oil warehouse of Chess-Carley Company.

There have been, and still are, doing some of the hardest work any man ever did, and am ready to answer any question that may be asked concerning this cure. Swift's Specific has saved me from an early grave.

LEM MCCLENDON.
Atlanta, Ga., April 18, 1885.

Lem McClendon has been in the employ of the Chess Carley Company for some years, and I know the above statements to be true. At the time he began taking Swift's Specific he was in a horrible condition, and his affliction his treatment with S. S. S. was undertaken by a physician after several others had declared his case to be hopelessly incurable. He took nothing but S. S. S., and has been as sound as a new dollar for several months. I regard his cure almost miraculous.

CAUTION!

Consumers should not confuse our Specific with the numerous imitations, substitutes, potash and mercury mixtures, which are gotten up to sell, not on their merit, but on the merit of our remedy. An imitation is always a fraud and a cheat, and they thrive only as they can steal from the article imitated.

For sale by all druggists. Treatise on blood and skin disease mailed free.

THE SEVEN STAGES

OF MAN.

All Require at Some Age

TAYLOR'S

CHEROKEE REMEDY

of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

1st STAGE—COLDS.

A neglected cold is attendant with so many dangerous results, that it should be attended to at once.

Give Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

24 STAGE—CROUP.

This night-fetid to children and horror to parents may attack your household at any time. Be prepared with that speedy relief, Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

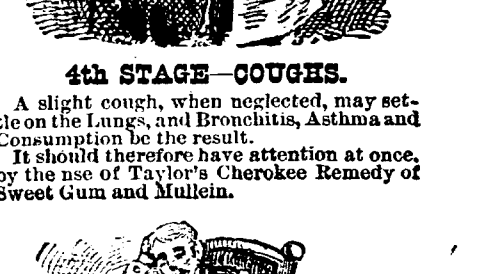

34 STAGE—WHOOING COUGH.

This is one of the most annoying and painful of all Bronchial troubles to children, lasting about three or four weeks, and the terrible spasms can be alleviated, and the child be relieved, by the use of Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

4th STAGE—COUGHS.

A slight cough, when neglected, may settle on the Lungs, and Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption be the result.

It should therefore have attention at once, by the use of Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

5th STAGE—BRONCHITIS.

This is almost as fatal as Consumption if not attended to in its early stages. A dry cough may be cured by the prompt use of Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

6th STAGE—ASTHMA.

A most suffering trouble in which the air-cells of the Bronchial tubes are obstructed. The sweet gum stimulates and throws off, and the mucilaginous principle in the Mullein heals the substance.

Take Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

7th STAGE—CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Quillan, the leading physician on Lung and Bronchial troubles, of Great Britain, recommends Mullein as preferable to Cod Liver Oil in Consumption.

The Sweet Gum stimulates the patient to aid expectoration, and relieve the early morning cough attendant in this disease.

Every consumptive should use Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

NEGLECTED COUGHS and COLDS

AT THE CRADLE

Will Result in a

PREMATURE GRAVE.

PRECAUTION!

TAYLOR'S

CHEROKEE REMEDY

OF SWEET GUM and MULLEIN.

The sweet gum, as gathered from a tree of the same name, growing along the small streams of the Southern States, contains a stimulating expectorant principle that loosens the phlegm producing the cough, and causes it to be thrown off, and the mucilaginous principle in the Mullein plant of the old fields, presents in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein the best known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping Cough, and Consumption; and so palatable, and so easy to take, that it is the best remedy for it. 25c. and $1.00 sizes. If we do not keep it, we will pay for one only, or return it. No receipt necessary to any part of the U. S., on receipt of $1.00.

Genuine Diamonds Found in Tea and Coffee.

The Empire Mills, of New York, have opened a store in this city, in the old Mayer House, on Calhoun street, for the purpose of introducing their new brands of Tea and Coffee, which are put up in paper cans; Coffee can and contents, about 3 pounds; Tea can and contents, about 1 1/2 pounds. As an extra inducement to purchasers this company will pack in each can of Coffee and Tea a souvenir or present, running in amount from 10c to $50, consisting of Nickel, Silver and solid Gold Watches, genuine Diamonds in solid Gold Settings and other jewelry. This company has adopted this expensive method so as to thoroughly advertise their goods in Fort Wayne and vicinity in the shortest time possible; but after thirty days this choice Tea and Coffee will be sold wholly on their merits by their agent in Fort Wayne at the same price, same quantity and same quality, but without the souvenirs, the Tea and Coffee being worth at a fair retail value more than the price asked without any regard to the souvenirs. This company is an old and well established one. It has already appointed over fifty agents in the various cities, none of whom are now selling souvenirs with their goods, yet each agent has a large and rapidly growing trade, as the superior quality of their Tea and Coffee becomes known. Prices: Single can, $1; six cans, $5; thirteen cans, $10; twenty-seven cans, $20. Send in your orders by mail accompanied by cash or post-office order and they will be forwarded to any address. Below will be found a partial list of fortunate purchasers finding valuable articles in their cans of tea and coffee: J. Lerch, shoe dealer, 127 Fairfield avenue; Willis G. Holmes, conductor P. Ft. W. and C. R. R., ladies' gold hunting case watch; Mrs. Martha Campbell, dress maker, Barr street, three stone diamond ring; Calvin R. Reed, builder, Berry street, pair solitaire diamond ear drops; C. H. Kendrick, supply agent Nickel Plate railway, diamond stud; C. F. Taylor, daily News, genuine diamond ring; Ernest Powers, 18 East Wayne street, genuine diamond ring; A. A. Purman, 109 West Washington street, ladies' Chatelaine watch. Open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

SATURDAY, OCT. 24, 1885.

THE CITY.

The Wabash shops were closed to-day. Wabash railroad stock is booming some in Wall street.

A woman living at Leo, was to-day delivered of triplets, all girls.

Mr. M. L. Graft left yesterday for Cincinnati and Indianapolis on legal business.

Frank Miller, of this city, was registered at the Grand hotel, Indianapolis, yesterday.

W. S. Bash has taken out a permit to build a barn on lot 206, Rockhill's addition, to cost $500.

The Wabash company has arranged to collect its old ties and burn them. This deprives section men of fuel.

Mr. and Mrs. Cairns, of South Broadway, pleasantly entertained the people of the Congregational church, last evening.

The Lester & Allen's minstrel party went away this morning. Mr. Sullivan disappointed many people. He did not get drunk here.

O. B. Wiley, the county surveyor and one of the best men were chosen, was at Huntington yesterday in the interest of the Little River ditch.

M. H. Moynihan, of Asheville, N. C., is visiting relatives in the city. Mr. Moynihan is interested in a wholesale tobacco house at Asheville.

Frank E. Stouder, a pleasant young man, has been appointed treasurer of the Masonic Temple. The selection is well earned and very popular.

Occasionally people inflict recollections of Pinafore on us, crediting the silly stuff to Hon. E. L. Chittenden. Mr. Chittenden desires no such notoriety.

Elias and John Hobbs, of Abbot township, could not settle the fine imposed on them for malicious trespass and lie in jail. Their families are said to be in want.

Linnie E. Auspaugh was yesterday divorced from Jacob Auspaugh. Judge Hensch broke the social knot and gave Mrs. Auspaugh permission to resume her maiden name Linnie Donnelly.

At Lima this morning a freight train on the Pittsburg broke in two and when the train was stopped the hind part came crashing into the fore part damaging four cars to the amount of $700. It did not cause any delay however.

The sale of unclaimed freight by the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway company closed yesterday, at Grand Rapids, all the articles being disposed of. The gross sale amounted to about $600, and the company will net over and above their charges about $300.

Rev. Father Whimsey, of the Cathedral, Cincinnati, writes Dr. J. M. Dinnen about the identity of a man named English, alleged to have been killed on the Nickel Plate road, near New Haven, February last. The report was without foundation, and Dr. Dinnen has so replied.

The argument in the case of ex-Treasurer Mason will be made at Portland Tuesday next, Hon. R. C. Bell, of this city, leading for the bondmen. Mr. George D. Crane has returned from Portland and predicts Mr. Bell will drop the case rather hard on the people prosecuting Mason's bondsmen.

"Gray, the 'mesmerist,' has been playing his 'Prof. Temple's Combination' act at several of our Indiana towns of rural proclivities," says the South Bend Times. The professor is booked here a week from next Sunday, and up north he got in bad odor and had a fight with Harry Francis, editor of the Michigan City Dispatch.

At Kendallville yesterday the funeral of William Miller, the brother-in-law of R. B. Rossington, occurred. He died of consumption, aged twenty-six years. He leaves a wife and one child, five months old. Mrs. Miller whose maiden name was Victoria Iddings, was before her marriage, two years ago, a pupil of the Conservatory of Music and she has many friends here.

Capt. Charles Reese yesterday had a surgical operation performed by Dr. Knobe who removed two pieces of bone as large as the end of a man's finger, from his nostrils, which were the result of a wound he received at the battle of Gettysburg twenty-two years ago. He was unable for that length of time to breathe through the right nostril at all. The operation was entirely painless and he is now about his work as usual.

Between three and four thousand third and fourth class postmasters will assemble in national convention in Chicago Thursday, Nov. 25, to take action in regard to certain injustice practice toward them by the government in the matter of rent, light, fuel and box rents. They claim that all legislation pertaining to the management and expenses of post offices is directly in the interest of first and second class postmasters, while those of the third and fourth grades, by far the hardest worked, are treated with positive injustice.

Miss Mary Golden is the guest of friends at Lafayette.

The town clock stopped again last evening and needs attention.

Mrs. Judge A. A. Chapin visited her friends at Kendallville this week.

Perry A. Randall has sold to John Kern lot 1, Ninde's addition, for $3,000.

Officer John Troutman has nearly recovered from his recent illness and is able to be out.

James Morris and Wm. Minsin were fined for drunkenness by Mayor Muhler this morning and committed to jail for eleven days each.

Mr. E. I. Fisher, cashier of the bank at Homer, Ill., is in the city, the guest of his brothers, Messrs. Max and Sam Fisher, the enterprising merchants.

The insurance companies have settled the fire with O. L. Starkey & Co., at $1,507.70 on stock. This does not include damage on building or machinery.

Rev. S. A. Northrop has just returned from Adrian, Mich., where he has been in attendance at the Baptist convention of that state. He carried the fraternal greeting of Indiana Baptists.

The funeral of Mr. Joseph McElfright will take place to-morrow, from the late residence, corner of Ewing and West Main streets, at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited.

Dr. G. W. Poynier reports that a patient of his gave birth to triplets last night. The doctor does not desire to give the lady's name and seems to believe the newspapers do not always treat him fairly.

The superintendent of public instruction is preparing to send the same educational display from Indiana to the forthcoming New Orleans exposition as was sent to the last. Allen county will be represented in the display.

The Darlington Brothers have inaugurated their professional skating tour under the management of C. J. Brown. He announces that Miss Marie Carlyle, nee Miss Carrie Hill, will appear with them for a time and then join the Freidberg-Well bicycle combination.

Charles H. Keeshin, business manager of Shook & Collier's "A Prisoner for Life" company, is in the city arranging for the presentation of that spectacular play at the Temple opera house next Friday and Saturday evenings. This is one of the most magnificent shows on the road.

Messrs. C. B. Woodworth and Carl Swain will shortly assume control of the Academy. Mr. Woodworth is now assistant manager and Mr. Swain, the Associated Press operator, is quite a hustler. This combination can continue to make the Academy a popular resort as Dink Trentman has.

"D. N. Foster, department commander of the G. A. R., for Indiana, was at the encampment Saturday and addressed the veterans.—Mr. T. J. Logan, of Fort Wayne, stenographer, is taking the testimony in the Morehouse case.—Ed. Hopkins, of Fort Wayne, was rusticiating in the north end yesterday," says the Portland Star.

Rev. F. S. Brown, pastor of the Wayne street M. E. church, was tendered a welcome and reception by his parishioners last evening. Prof. W. F. Yocum addressed the new minister in the warmest words of welcome and Rev. Mr. Brown's response but more and more endeared him to his people. The minister grows in popularity and his work will soon be felt in the Christian field.

The Pennsylvania railroad officials declare that that company has been steadily making money since the east and west bond rates were advanced, and it is stated by what is regarded as very good authority that the next dividend of the company will be at the regular rate of 3 per cent. semi-annually. A close computation of its earnings, based on a decided improvement in the business for September, it is asserted, shows that the amount will have been earned.

"No trace of Celesta Horen has yet been found. Last night a telegram was received by Captain Morrissey from the chief of police at Fort Wayne, asking if Mrs. Horen had been found. The captain telegraphed back that she had not. This would indicate that she was not in Fort Wayne at least. There is little doubt but that she took her life as she announced she would, else some trace of her would have turned up ere this," says the Logansport Pharos. The woman is familiar here being known as Jennie Green. Her neck was crooked and she walked as though being pulled up on one side.

Col. C. A. Zollinger this morning assumed charge of the office of federal pension agent of Indiana. The colonel has officially announced the appointment of two deputies from this city, one being his brother, Henry Zollinger, and the other Bart F. McCarthy, of the Sixth ward. Henry Zollinger is the well known ex-trustee of Adams township and Mr. McCarthy is a machinist in the Wabash shop who was strongly urged for an appointment. The gentlemen will not take their offices until after the first pension payment is made, but they are sure of their places inside of a month. The appointments are popular and good.

GONE WITH A WOMAN. A Grand Rapids Brakeman Absconds with a Disreputable Woman.

Chas. J. Seely, a brakeman on the G. R. & I., railroad, who has a family living on Prescott street, Grand Rapids, has disappeared from home. He started on his trip to Fort Wayne as usual Monday, when he drew some $68 due him from the railroad company. On Wednesday night he was seen visiting the gambling saloons of that city and on Friday it is said he left with a disreputable woman for Cleveland. His wife is greatly exercised over his disappearance. The last time he left home he kissed each member of his family and bid them an affectionate adieu. It was supposed he had been foully dealt with until the fact of there being a woman in the case dawned on his friends. Seely is quite well known in Fort Wayne.

CRUSHING SIN. Nellie Hines to Close Her Bagnio and Pay $300 Bail Money for Her Missing Husband.

Eugene Fickes, the scenic artist and handsome man, is still missing. The forfeiture of his bond was taken into the circuit court this morning to bind Jacob Certia, who is surety on Fickes' bond for $300. The police tell us that Nell Hines will pay the money into the school fund and close her northside resort. She will sell some of her property and may possibly go to a more congenial clime, where the case against Fickes will not disturb him. It is said the fellow would run a good chance of going to the state's prison if he stood trial. An old police officer says this warfare on Madam Hines is similar to that waged on "Big Lou" who held forth on Fairfield avenue years ago. The case against Nellie Hines, in the circuit court, will be pushed vigorously and it is safe to congratulate the people of the north side on being rid of a degrading nuisance in their neighborhood.

AMUSEMENTS.

Lester & Allen's Minstrels. This company gave a very enjoyable performance at the Temple last night. The show was clever and the specialties new and original. The Herbert Brothers did the greatest acrobatic feats of the age, while John L. Sullivan's staturary business was quite a card. It was evident the public feared the company, because of Sullivan's reputation for meanness, but no one had occasion to regret sitting through the performance.

PRINCESS TREBIZONDA. Allison & Felch's Comedy company gave this very amusing and tuneful musical comedy at the Academy to a very good house last night.

The people are all exceedingly clever and their business is decidedly the best and most amusing ever seen in this city. It is a show The SENTINEL can recommend and as it is repeated to-night there should not be a vacant seat in the Academy.

The next attraction at the Academy is Bayse's Standard Dramatic company, opening Monday night in "Queen's Evidence." Their repertoire includes also "Hazel Kirke," "M'liss," "Monte Cristo" and other plays by permission. The management stars Ella Salisbury. People's lowest prices, 10 and 20 cents. Reserved seats, 30 cents.

Hon. A. P. Edgerton.

Hon. W. G. Colerick is circulating a petition urging the appointment of Hon. A. P. Edgerton, of this city, on the national civil service commission. Mr. Edgerton enjoys the respect, confidence and esteem of all people, irrespective of politics. His characteristic fairness and sense of honor would be a guarantee against political intrigue and his acknowledged ability and tested statesmanship makes him certainly as desirable and available a candidate as the nation can command. It is a pleasure for The SENTINEL to lend its unqualified endorsement to the movement in favor of Mr. Edgerton and believes the representatives of Indiana owe it to Mr. Edgerton to unanimously present his name to President Cleveland.

Sleeplessness.

Narcotics and sedatives murder sleep; the unnatural stupor is soon followed by ill effects. Simmons Liver Regulator removes the cause of restless and sleeplessness by regulating the bowels, by establishing good digestion and by quieting the nerves. Try it, and you will soon know the blessings of good health and sound sleep.

"I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and loss of sleep. As soon as I feel the least nervous I take a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator and sleep all night. Mrs. R. BRYANT, Griswoldville, Ga.

Rev. Father Deumig's Grand Fair.

A pleasant fair will be held at the Catholic St. Mary's hall, Avilla, commencing this evening, and continuing the following week, for the benefit of the Avilla missions. There will be musical entertainments each evening. Among the lively contests taking place will be the following: This evening, baby contest, a fine doll for the best baby. Monday evening, Oct. 26, physicians contest, a valuable microscope for the most popular physician, between Drs. Maloney, Broughton, Kester, and Rohrig, Avilla; Drs. Gilbert, Williams and Teal, Kendallville; Drs. Green and Lemon, Albion; Dr. W. H. Meyers, of Fort Wayne. Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, a farmers contest, the best plow for the most successful farmer, between Platt B. Bassett, of Albion; and John D. Black, of Allen township. Wednesday evening, Oct. 28, the editors contest. Thursday evening, Oct. 29, the railroad contest. Friday evening, Oct. 30, ladies' contest, for a very valuable gold watch between Miss Jennie Sedgwick, teacher, Albion, and Miss Ella Byrnes, teacher, Kendallville. Quite a number of Fort Wayne people will go up.

THEY DIVY. Mr. and Mrs. Lew Clark Cut Their Property in Two and Agree to a Divorce.

It is not very chilly to-day, but the Clark case comes up all the same. A council of arbitration has adjusted the trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Lew Clark. He is to take the Oliver house property, half their personal effects and the two children. Mrs. Clark takes two buildings on Columbia street and one on Lafayette street, with her share of the personal stuff. She also agrees that her husband shall be granted a divorce without any protest from her and thus ends their trouble. Mrs. Clark now drives a pair of Shetland ponies and proudly holds the reins over the rabbit-like animals. This Shetland pony business is a queer racket to thrust on the people, but is not original with Mrs. Clark. This news can be considered reliable, as it was given The SENTINEL by an attorney in the case.

The following honorary committee has been appointed for the coming grand military ball: Gov. I. P. Gray and staff, Honorable C. F. Muhler, Sol Bash, Wm. Fleming, D. S. Keil, Jno. H. Bass, A. P. Edgerton, W. D. Page, Mont Hamilton, O. A. Simons, C. D. Law, S. B. Bond, Robert Lowry, John Morris, O. P. Morgan, J. D. Sarnighausen, Chas. McCulloch, P. S. O'Rourke, Scott Swann, E. A. K. Hackett, S. Frieberger, F. C. Weldon, D. N. Foster, M. V. B. Spencer and Chas. A. Munson.

That Terrible Duet which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood, and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

SKIN, SCALP, BLOOD

Cleaned, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

Hundreds of letters in our possession, copies of which may be had by return mail, repeat this story: "I have been a terrible sufferer for years from diseases of the skin and blood. I have been obliged to shun public places by reason of my disgusting humors; have had the best physicians; have spent hundreds of dollars, and got no relief until I used the Cuticura Remedies, which have cured me, and left my skin and blood as pure as a child's."

COVERED WITH SALT RHEUM.

Cuticura Remedies are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case of Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe Cuticura would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the Cuticura Resolvent, internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, externally. Newark, O. J. W. ADAMS.

HEAD, FACE AND BODY RASH.

I commenced to use your Cuticura Remedies last July. My head and face and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful. I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. I have now not a particle of Skin Humour about me, and my case is considered wonderful. DECATUR, MICH. MRS. S. E. WHIPPLE.

ECZEMA FROM HEAD TO FEET.

Charles Eayre Hinkle, Jersey City Heights, N. J., writes: "My son, a lad of twelve years, was completely cured of a terrible case of Eczema by the CUTICURA REMEDIES. From the top of his head to the soles of his feet was one mass of scabs." Every other remedy and physicians had been tried in vain.

NOTHING LIKE CUTICURA.

The hair has not been told as to the great curative powers of the cuticura. I have paid hundreds of dollars for medicines to cure diseases of the blood and skin, and never found anything yet to equal the cuticura remedies. CHAS. A. WILLIAMS, Providence, R. I.

JOHNSON GOSSIP.

General Sherman Discredits the DePew Story and Pays Tribute to Johnson.

Colonel Fred Grant Reiterates Former Statements and Threatens to Prove Them.

Col. Frank Burr's Narrative of the Relations of Grant, Sherman and Johnson.

MORE OF IT.

General Sherman on the Johnson Interview.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—General Sherman, in an interview says he has letters and documents showing the whole story of the relations between General Grant and President Johnson. General Grant's letters to him do not indicate that Johnson meant violence. The story told from Philadelphia last night was substantially true. General Sherman does not know what was wanted from him at Washington, if General Grant had been sent to Mexico, but he does not think Johnson contemplated anything contrary to the constitution and the laws. After Stanton was removed, Sherman advised the appointment of Gen. J. D. Cox, of Ohio, but Johnson was stubborn and refused.

COL. FRED GRANT.

New York, Oct. 21.—The Herald has another long installment of interviews with persons on the DePew letter. Fred Grant reiterates his former statements. He said: "I have heard my father say many of the same things in very much the same language. I have documentary evidence in my possession that would be collateral proofs of the facts referred to in the conversation my father had with Mr. DePew and I intend to collate them and my recollections upon that subject."

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—The News prints an interview with Vice President Hendricks saying he does not believe DePew's story. Johnson wanted to restore not to construct needed status.

PHILADELPHIA, October 23.—The pending controversy between the friends of General Grant and those of Ex-President Andrew Johnson, is creating great interest here, where many of General Grant's friends live, and are in a greater or less degree, familiar with General Grant's expressions upon the subject. Colonel Frank A. Burr, of the Philadelphia Times, has just finished his memorial volume of the "Life and Deeds of General Grant," and it will shortly be given to the public, a chapter of which deals with the relations between Johnson, Stanton and Grant. After telling of General Sherman's summons to come to Washington, it says: General Sherman in speaking of it says: "I recall very clearly being called to Washington by a telegram from President Johnson, during his troubles with congress. My headquarters were then at St. Louis, but I was down in New Mexico among the Indians. I did not know what was going on, but I came to Washington as rapidly as possible and immediately went to General Grant's house, to find out. When we were together I asked him what was up. His reply was that he did not know but there was something going on. He said there was a disposition in the cabinet to get rid of him. A proposition had been made to send him to Mexico, but he had determined not to go. He said he would stand court martial first. He then told me that Seward had formulated some sort of a paper, which had been read and agreed upon at a recent cabinet meeting. He remarked that he had said at the time that he was not in the habit of receiving orders from the secretary of state, when upon they had said that that could be very easily remedied; that it could be made to read as coming from the secretary of war. General Grant then urged that it was a diplomatic mission and one on which he could not be sent under the law. He said that if they wanted to send the army down there with him at its head, that was a very different thing, but that he could not be ordered by the secretary of war upon any diplomatic mission whatever. After this explanation, I said to him 'well what do they want of me?' 'I do not know,' was his reply. After this conversation, I went over immediately and called upon the president without visiting secretary Stanton, or any other cabinet officers. The president, told me frankly they were going to send Gen. Campbell as minister to Mexico, accredited to the Juárez government and that it was thought best to send Gen. Grant along with him; that his high position and his friendship for Mexico would give this act high standing, and place our minister in a commanding position with the government to which he was accredited. I said 'Mr. President, this diplomatic mission and General Grant will not go upon it. He will disobey the order if it is issued.' The president seemed very much surprised and said that he had a very great regard for General Grant, and would not like to do anything that was disre-

The British Campaign is a Riot By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—It is now evident that the parliamentary campaign will not pass off without serious rioting in many quarters as the party feeling, which already runs high, daily grows more bitter. The Marquis of Lorne, at Bradford, while addressing the electors, was mobbed with rotten eggs and stones, and his hat was smashed over his head. A fight ensued, and the noble lord became so thoroughly frightened that he hastily departed from the scene, run through the streets in the pouring rain to the railway station and immediately departed for London.

BERLIN, October 21.—The Emperor William returned to this city today from Baden. He was welcomed by thousands of citizens. The Emperor looked well, but his countenance wore a grave expression.

CATTARO, October 21.—A native of Albania to-day made an attempt to shoot the Montenegrin minister of war. The attempt was unsuccessful. When arrested the man openly avowed that he was a member of a conspiracy formed against the frontier delimitation commission. He regretted that his shot had failed to take effect. The prisoner was summarily executed.

TANGIER, October 21.—The cruelties practised by the authorities of Morocco are attracting the serious attention of all the foreign representatives and an appeal to their respective governments will probably be made, for foreign interference, in order to stop the horrible atrocities which are almost daily perpetrated on alleged criminals, for some imaginary offence, tramped up by spies for the purpose of retaining their positions.

PARIS, October 21.—The Burmese envoy yesterday handed a note to Lord Lyons, British ambassador, in which he stated that he had sent a dispatch to the government advising them to accept arbitration for the settlement of the dispute with England and that he was certain they would be glad to restore friendly relations with Great Britain.

PARIS, October 21.—The Soir referring to the proposed expulsion from France, of the members of the Orleans family, says the cabinet has decided not to interfere with them for the present.

BIRMINGHAM, October 21.—Lord Randolph Churchill opened the campaign today in the presence of a crowded and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Chamberlain, he said, gave splendid promises in regard to the future but refused to explain the past. He remained silent concerning the enormous bloodshed of gallant Englishmen in the Sudan. Mr. Gladstone (cheers and noise) had issued a long and vague manifesto, explaining nothing and leaving the situation of the liberals baffled and confused. The meeting was uproarious throughout, but was generally favorable to the speaker.

LONDON, October 21.—The delimitation of the Zulu territory is finished. England has secured for Africa (as the control of the complete military situation).

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—The National Christian Missionary convention adjourned tonight, to meet October 26, 1885, in Kansas City. The following officers of the general Christian missionary society, were elected for the ensuing year: President, General F. N. Drake, Iowa; vice-presidents, B. A. Hinsdale, Ohio; C. L. Jones, Kentucky; and D. B. Van Buren, Indiana; national corresponding secretary, Rev. Robert Moffet, Ohio; recording secretary, W. H. Draper, Indiana; O. G. Hartzog, New York; and W. S. RAD LUCK TO MR. COON.

Secretary Manning refused to say anything in regard to the report that Assistant-secretary Coon has been notified that his resignation will be accepted in a few days. He intimated that all information on that subject must come from Mr. Coon. The reports divide general credence in the treasury department and it was even rumored this afternoon that Mr. Youmans, of New York, now chief clerk of the treasury, had been selected as Mr. Coon's successor. Mr. Youmans, however, denied the report.

Mr. R. FORTER, 20 Main street, Terre Haute, Ind., has suffered from Neuritis, and found relief in the use of ATHLOPHOROS, (see day's time the pain was all gone).

ATHLOPHOROS will not act as quickly as some of the other remedies, but it is sure and the more severe the pain the more quickly it will act. There is no more severe pain than that of Neuritis, and no more insidious and difficult to cure. Ladies particularly are subject to Neuritis of the hands and feet. Neuritis is a very common ailment, and is caused by the use of ATHLOPHOROS (see the truth of this statement). It is not worth a trial in your case?

OUR HOME HEATHENS.

Meeting of the Woman's Home Mission Society of the M. E. Church.

By Telegraph to The Sentinel.

PHILADELPHIA, October, 23.—The fourth annual meeting of the general board of managers of the woman's home missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was held here to-day. Mrs. Rutherford Hayes, called the meeting to order. After the delivery of several other addresses, the fourth annual report was read by Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes. It stated that the past year had been one of growth and reference was made to the death, during the year, of Bishop Wiley. Several committees were then appointed and recess was taken.

"He gets at scars, who never felt a wound," and a man may stand with his hands in his pockets and laugh at a poor, worn rheumatic, but if he is a gentleman, he'll step into the nearest apothecary shop and buy him a bottle of Salivation Oil at the small expense of only twenty-five cents.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It soothes the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Locally.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

The New York Board of Health estimates that about five have been destroyed by the explosion of kerosene. If every household would adopt the White Seal Oil for family use, none of these unfortunate accidents would occur.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL has none of the defects usually found in common oils. It cannot be exploded, does not char the wick, will not smoke, emits no offensive odor, and produces the breaking of chimneys.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL is a rich oil for illuminating purposes. It is as light as kerosene, and burns much longer than common oils. It is a strong, steady light, and burns much longer than common oils. It is a strong, steady light, and burns much longer than common oils.
